

EFTC Links

The Scottish Drugs Training Project

The Scottish Drugs Training Project, at the University of Stirling provides a number of distance learning courses. Under the direction of Mr. Rowdy Yates. Further details may be explored by visiting them at:

www.stir.ac.uk/Departments/HumanSciences/AppSocSci/DRUGS/

European Working group On Drugs Oriented Research ( EWODOR )

The European Federation of Therapeutic Communities enjoys close working contact with the European Working group On Drug Oriented Research ( EWODOR ).

The EWODOR web site and mailbase provides an up to date channel of information and resources from within the international drug and alcohol fields. Membership of the mailbase is free.

www.stir.ac.uk/departments/humanosciences/appsocsci/drugs/ewodor.htm

National Development Research Institute

Center for Therapeutic Community Research: New York, USA

As the national center for the study of therapeutic communities ( TCs ), substance abuse and related issues, the Center for Therapeutic Community Research ( CTCR ) conducts systematic research on refining techniques and improving the effectiveness of treatment. In addition, it focuses on modifying the unique therapeutic community approach to special populations and settings such as mentally ill chemical abusers ( MICAs ) in community residences, adolescent substance abusers in residential TCs, and criminal offenders in corrections facilities. The CTCR is redefining an assessment instrument for measuring readiness for treatment, developing a system for classifying TC programme's, and establishing a national TC database.

Additional information regarding the work of Dr. George De Leon and the Team at CTCR can be found at :

<http://www.ndri.org/>

The World Federation of Therapeutic Communities

The European Federation of Therapeutic Communities is an associate federation member of the World Federation of Therapeutic Communities ( WFTC ). The WFTC, it's member's and world wide therapeutic community information can be found at:

<http://www.wftc.org/>

The European Association for the Treatment of Addiction

Provides services which "Help ensure people with substance dependencies get the treatment they need". They also provide seminars and short course training for professionals in the region.

<http://www.eata.org.uk/>

Institutt for Funksjonell Psykoterapi, Bedriftspsykologisk Rådgivingstjeneste

This is the web site of EFTC individual member Dr. Dag Furuholmen, at present his pages are available only in Norwegian.

<http://www.psykoterapi.org/>

Interested in natural health care, Hepatitis C and related illnesses ?

Please visit these links:

The Yuan Centre

Mr. John Tindall, is a well known pioneer in the United Kingdom and throughout the world regarding training and natural health care approaches within holistic traditional Chinese medicine. Amongst others, he has trained the staff at Phoenix House Haga in Norway.
<http://www.yuancentre.com/>

The Hepatitis C Handbook

One of the most informative publications and sites related to the infection of hepatitis C and support networks can be found through Matthew Dolans site:

<http://www.hepchandbook.com/>

Founded in 1978 and formalised in 1981 on the initiative of some organisations for residential drug treatment, the EFTC is a European federative organisation supporting the psychopedagogical approach helping drug addicts to return to a drug free life style and to become contributing members of the wider community.

Today the EFTC. is spread across Europe in 25 countries and represents more than 40 treatment organisations.

RIGHT NOW: Sign up for The EFTC 8th European Conference on Rehabilitation and Drug Policy in Warsaw during September 2001! >>